Big LifePoint shareholder trims stake

Published June 8, 2014 by Elizabeth Ramsey

One of LifePoint Hospitals' (LPNT) largest investors has sold a significant portion of its beneficial ownership, as disclosed today to the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Atlanta-based Shapiro Capital Management Co., a money manager that reported $1.5 billion in stock assets at the end of this year's first quarter, decreased its holdings of the Brentwood company from 2.57 million shares — or 6.83% of the shares outstanding — to 1.75 million shares, dropping below the 5% reportable minimum to 4.17%.

LifePoint Hospitals' shares were down a penny to $38.39 Tuesday. Their 52-week range is $19.36-$39.21.
